

LEVEL THE PLAYING FIELD

With compassion and unmatched expertise, Fields Law Firm maximizes compensation and benefits for injured and disabled workers nationwide.

When workplace injuries and disabling events occur, a cascade of red tape and a mountain of delays often follow. This often leaves individuals wondering about their family's future and facing difficult questions: When can I return to work? How will I pay my bills? Should I accept the insurance company's settlement offer? And most importantly, whose advice can I trust?

Fields Law Firm specializes in helping injured and disabled workers nationwide navigate the complexities of workers' compensation benefits, long term disability benefits, and Social Security disability benefits—no matter what stage of the process they are facing. “Whether you’re questioning your rights, afraid of getting fired, confused about the filing process, or dealing with claim denials, our team of experienced attorneys is here to listen to your story, answer all your questions, and help you prepare,” explains Steve Fields, attorney, founder, and CEO.

Founded in 2001, Fields Law expanded from a single attorney with one legal assistant to a full-service injury and disability law powerhouse that represents cases throughout the U.S. Today, it is Minnesota’s largest and one of the nation’s most respected disability law firms, and one of very few that handles every aspect of post-injury law. Where other firms offer only disability, product liability, or workers’ compensation, Fields Law does it all under one roof.

“Not every injured person needs an attorney, but every injured person deserves unbiased, informed legal advice,” Fields says. Because Fields Law works on a contingency-fee basis—meaning all costs are covered by settlements—attorneys only get paid after injured parties are paid. “We provide free, no-obligation consultations, so everyone—even people who aren’t sure if they have a qualifying injury—can speak with an experienced attorney free of charge.”

Full-Service Solution

With a broad range of experience in long term disability law, Fields Law attorneys help individuals at every stage in the claims process, from filing a claim and appealing a denial to negotiating increased benefits and maximizing compensation.

“When injured, most employees assume workers’ compensation or their company’s disability insurance will cover medical bills and other needs,” explains Fields. “However, they’re facing a complex system designed for insurance companies’ benefit instead of the injured worker’s best interest. The claims process is an uneven matchup where big companies with deep pockets use expensive expert reports and evaluations to deny valid claims.”

Fields Law specializes in leveling the playing field by representing injured and disabled workers. “Getting hurt at work, appealing a disability claim, or fighting for medical coverage and lost wages are inherently difficult situations, but no one has to do it alone,” says Fields.
